

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE.

An undertaking so costly in time, labor, and money as the preparation of this, the most complete phonographic dictionary and phrase-book ever published, would hardly have been entered upon had not the great utility of works of its class been abundantly demonstrated during the half century which has elapsed since the publication of Isaac Pitman's first "Phonographic and Pronouncing Vocabulary of the English Language." That work made its first appearance in 1850, and so obvious was its importance to learners of phonography that not fewer than seven editions of it have been published in England, several of them appearing in many distinct issues.

In this country, where Pitman phonography has developed upon somewhat different, and we cannot but think more healthful, lines than in England, various phonographic "dictionaries," "vocabularies," and "phrase-lists," more or less complete, have been published. "The Phrase-Book," first issued by Benn Pitman as early as 1860, and "The Phonographic Dictionary," by Benn Pitman and Jerome B. Howard, first issued in 1882 (both of which have been repeatedly issued under various dates), are merged in the present work, which, however, is now so amplified, both as to material and method, as to constitute a new and distinct production.

The benefits of a phonographic dictionary, while extending to all phonographers who aim at higher proficiency in their art, accrue chiefly to the self-instructed and to those students who, after taking a course of instruction in a school, have passed from under the eye of the teacher and are going through the early stage of practical experience as amanuenses or reporters—a stage during which even harder study and more devoted practise than is often found in schools is essential, if higher steps are to be taken. For such the dictionary is especially intended, and, if rightly used, will prove indeed a "guide, philosopher and friend."

The words if rightly used are advisedly set down. There is a way of using, or, rather, of misusing, a dictionary which makes it rather an enemy than a friend. The student who finds himself falling helplessly into the habit of turning to the word-list as a matter of course to find the outline for a new word the moment he comes upon it, instead of first thinking out and writing out the outline his own judgment approves, had better throw his dictionary away. To him, if such habit be persisted in, the dictionary will be but an enfeebling influence which will dry up in him all impulse to original phonographic thought and render him a helpless victim of circumstances whenever in the heat of actual reporting he comes upon a strange word against which he has not armed himself by previously looking into his dictionary.

All phonographic study and practise has for its object the empowering of the writer unhesitatingly to construct, upon sound phonographic principles, legible outlines expressive of each and all the words which may come to his ears in the course of a report. The great mass of common words become so familiar to the experienced reporter that he writes them not only without hesitation, but almost without thought. Nevertheless every day, if not every hour, of his work may bring to him words which are rare, or even wholly new to him—so far as their phonographic forms are concerned, at least. For these words he has no familiar forms pictured in his memory, and if he is to report them truly he must build outlines with lightning rapidity and with unfailing accuracy of formation. This power of outline-building rests upon a practical mastery of the system of phonography as such, and it is to be acquired only through thorough study of phonographic principles and much careful drill in applying these principles slowly and methodically to practise.

And right here it is, in this slow, accurate practise, that the dictionary helps or hinders. It hinders if the learner gives way to the temptation to let it do his thinking for him. It helps immeasurably if he does his own thinking first and appeals to the dictionary in those cases of doubt as to the excellence of his own results which may naturally and reasonably arise in the work of any student. The function, then, of the dictionary, as to the learner of phonography, is to solve doubts; to inform the student whether the result of his efforts is right, faulty, or wrong. No state of mind, save that of stupid self-satisfaction, can be more perilous to the learner than that of anxious doubt. The questions "Am I doing well?", "Are my patient efforts of avail?", "Am I on the right track?", if left too long unanswered may, nay, are likely to, lead to discouragement and final abandonment of the most cherished enterprise. The dictionary should be the counselor who answers these questions promptly and truthfully. The student who sees outline after outline, over which he has faithfully toiled and honestly doubted, approved by the appeal to the dictionary, is stimulated and encouraged. His references to the book gradually become fewer, for he learns to respect his own judgment—the book having shown him that it is worthy of respect. The student who is greeted by reproof after reproof, as he compares his faulty structures with the perfect models, will, if he is wise, soon take the hint and return to his elementary text-books. He will review as often as need be his Manual and Companion, where he may learn, not merely phonographic outlines, but phonography the science and art of building and vocalizing phonographic outlines.

It is evident, moreover, that a dictionary, to be of any considerable use, must be of a very comprehensive character.

It is not the easy, simple forms about which the student is likely to be in doubt, but those of rarer occurrence and complicated structure—those in whose formation well-founded doubts may arise, and concerning which even doctors may sometimes disagree.

It is for the reason just indicated that a very considerable proportion of technical and foreign words and phrases have been included in this work. The reporter or amanuensis who finds himself about to be called upon to write about technical matters will act wisely to make some preparation therefor, however hasty and superficial it may perforce be. In these days of increasing specialization, the range of technical reporting is widening rapidly. The busy phonographer may to-day be called upon to report a convention of physicians—it may be laryngoscopists or neurologists; to-morrow, of engineers—it may be hydraulic or mining experts; and, again, of manufacturersit may be nail-makers or silk-weavers. In such emergencies even the smallest interval of time will be availed of by the prudent reporter, who may not only vastly lighten the labor involved in making the report but even save himself from humiliating defeat by reading up the general subject in such cyclopedias or text-books as may be at his command, and especially by studying the significations and practising the best phonographic outlines for new words therein found. In this process it is believed that the "Dictionary and Phrase-Book" will be most helpful. It is in view of the fact that reporters are nowadays called upon with especial frequency to write medical terms that this portion of the vocabulary has received especial fullness of treatment in the following pages.

In the 1861 edition of the "Phrase Book," the following prefatory words are printed:

The extent to which the capacities of the phonographic system are developed in this work, in the special direction to which it is devoted, will both surprise and gratify the phonographer. Indeed, had the system been framed with a special view to the writing of phrases, rather than accurate representation of the elementary sounds of the language, it could scarcely have presented a greater degree of philosophic brevity and completeness than is exhibited in the phraseographic abbreviations of this work.

The extent of the development of phrase-writing in the present volume is (especially when the cross-references are taken into consideration) several times as great as that of the original work. This portion of the book will be found exceedingly useful to the learner, not merely for reference, but as a subject of special study and practise. It is recommended that the student write, first by copying and afterwards from dictation, the entire mass of phrases herein given. He will thus not only receive a valuable training of the hand, and also acquire a ready use of many phrases which will be retained in his memory, but, far more important, he will obtain such a practical knowledge of the principles of phrase-writing, and familiarity with the classes of words which unite to form phrases, as will enable him thereafter to construct correct phrases instantaneously while in the actual process of reporting.

INTRODUCTION.

This book aims to include in its vocabulary every word of the English language which is not "obsolete," "archaic," "very rare," or ultra-technical. It also includes a large number of those words from foreign languages which have come into frequent or occasional use in English speech and literature. It thus contains all the words which the practical phonographer is likely to meet with in his work. Besides this extensive word-list the book comprises a phrase-list of several thousands of useful English and foreign phrases.

Each word in the vocabulary is considered with respect to the following points:

- a. Spelling. The modern spelling in most general use is given. In cases where two or more spellings are prevalent, the simplest is chosen. Thus adz, eon, instead of adze, æon. Occasionally, more than one spelling is given, especially where usage is not settled or where there is a differentiation of meaning, as abater and abator.
- b. Accentuation. The main accent of each word is marked by the sign (') immediately after the accented syllable. Secondary accents are not marked.

- To the phonographer this Dictionary c. Pronunciation. is a perfect pronouncing lexicon. The accent being marked in the typic word, and the phonetic elements shown in the engraved shorthand form, the pronunciation of each word is unmistakably indicated. In choosing the pronunciation in those cases where usage is divided or theories differ, reference has been had to the three great authorities—"Webster's International Dictionary," "The Century Dictionary," and "The Standard Dictionary." No one of these works has on all points been accepted to the exclusion of the others. On certain systematic points of pronunciation, however, as particularly the values of unaccented vowels, "Webster" has, in general, been followed; on others, as, for instance, the values of the consonants t, d, s, z, when followed by i or ysounds, the doctrine of the "Century" has seemed most acceptable; while in isolated cases of diverse pronunciation, the three authorities have been compared and, generally speaking, the pronunciation favored by a majority has been held to prevail.
- d. Capitalization. Only those words are capitalized in the vocabulary which should be so written in the middle of a sentence.
- e. Phonographic Representation. The fully-vocalized ("corresponding style") form of every word is shown in engraved phonographic characters in close proximity to each typic word in the vocabulary. The typic words are arranged in columns, divided into groups of three, and the corresponding phonographic forms are arranged in lineal groups of three, and each phonographic group is placed immediately to the right of its corresponding typic group.

- f. Grammalogues. Every word which, in the corresponding style of phonography, is considered as a grammalogue, is repeated in CAPITALS immediately following its main entry, and its corresponding logogram appears in its appropriate place in the shorthand column.
- g. Reporting Outlines. The reporting outline of a word is generally the same as the corresponding style outline, the vowels being simply omitted. In certain cases, however (see Reporter's Companion, paragraphs 14 to 18), it is necessary to write the reporting outline "in position," and in such cases the typic word is followed by an Arabic figure "1," to indicate that the reporting outline is written in the first position, or by a figure "3," to indicate that the reporting outline is written in the third position. Whenever the reporting outline is contracted, or is in any other way different from the regular unvocalized outline, the word is reprinted in the vocabulary in SMALL CAPITALS, and the reporting outline is given in its appropriate place in the column of engraved shorthand.
- h. Compounding. The phonographic outlines of those compound words which in longhand are written with the hyphen, are given with the phonographic hyphen only in cases in which the component outlines do not admit of ready joining. When the component words can be conveniently joined, they are written as a single outline formed without lifting the pen. In the reporting style the hyphen may be omitted even in those cases in which it is used in the corresponding style. Compound words are thus practically treated as phrases, which indeed they are.

i. Phrase-Writing. The principal phrases built upon any word are given immediately following the word, in its regular place in the vocabulary. The repetition of the first word or words in the phrase-lists is indicated by the system of ditto marks formerly used in the Phrase-Book. mark brings down the first word of the preceding phrase, two marks bring down the first two words of the preceding phrase, and so on. In general, no attempt is made in this book to carry joined phrases beyond the third word, as but a small proportion of phrases of greater length will be found However, no positive rule can be given to limit the useful. extent of joined phrases, it being possible for writers of small, neat hands to carry them to greater lengths than those who write a larger and bolder style. Cross references are therefore given to indicate those cases in which more extensive joining may be used if thought desirable by the individual writer, who, in such cases, is the only competent judge, with regard to his own practise, as to whether or not joining may be extended and still subserve speed, convenience, and legibility.

From the vocabulary are omitted:

- a. All regular plurals of nouns; i. e., those which are regularly written in phonography by adding a circle-s or -z to the outline of the singular, and those which are formed by enlarging a circle which ends the singular.
- b. All regular preterites; i. e., those formed in phonography by halving a final full-length stroke which ends the singular, or by adding the stroke-d to a final half-length stroke which ends the singular.
- c. All present participles and most verbal nouns ending in -ing, when the final syllable is written in phonography with the dot.
- d. The third-person singular indicative forms of verbs, when regularly formed by the addition of circle-s to the form of the infinitive, or by enlarging a circle which ends the form of the infinitive.

BENN PITMAN AND JEROME B. HOWARD.

PUBLISHT BY

THE PHONOGRAPHIC INSTITUTE COMPANY, CINCINNATI, O.

There is no question whatever of the truth of the statement that the Benn Pitman System is more generally used than any other in this country; at least this would appear to be true, from the reports made to this Bureau of various institutions teaching shorthand.—Hon. W. T. Harris, Commissioner of Education (Washington, D. C.), November 19, 1898.

The following is a graphic summary of the Table of Statistics on the Teaching of Shorthand in the United States, in the Bureau of Education Circular of Information No. 1, 1893, pages, 40 to 141:

Senn Pitman, 747 teachers,

34.7 %. Graham, 363 teachers, 16.8 %.

Munson, 228 teachers, 10.6 %.

Cross, 185 teachers, 8.6 %.

Isaac Pitman, 143 teachers, 6.7 %.

Lindsley, 81 teachers, 3.7 %.

Pernin, 64 teachers, 2.5 %.

Scott-Browne, 52 teachers, 2.4 %.

Longley, 52 teachers, 2.4 %.

McKee, 36 teachers, 1.6 %.

Pitman (unspecified), 35 teachers, 1.6 %.

- Moran, 30 teachers, 1.3 %.

Sloan-Duployan, 24 teachers, 1.1 %.
 Besides 38 others, each being less than 1 %.

To supply the increasing demand for stenographers, schools of shorthand and typewriting have been establisht in various parts of the country, and with few exceptions, all business colleges now have a "department of shorthand." A number of systems are taught, but that of Benn Pitman is more generally used than any other in this country and may be called the "American System."—Report of the Commissioner of Education, for 1887-88, page 927.

Instruction Books.

The Manual of Phonography. [420th Thousand.] By BENN PITMAN and JEROME B. HOWARD. Designed for instruction in Schools Academies, Business Colleges, etc., as well as for self-instruction, in the art of Shorthand Writing. The proper book for the beginner. It contains a complete exposition of the system, from its simplest principles to the reporting style, arranged in alternate and opposite pages of explanation and phonographic exercises. Every principle is copiously illustrated with engraved examples for reading, and exercises in the ordinary type for writing and dictation practise. A mastery of this book fits the student to act efficiently as a business amanuensis and lays the indispensable foundation for reporting skill as developed in the Reporter's Companion. Revised, enlarged and improved 200 pp., cloth
The Phonographic Reader. By Benn Pitman and Jerome B. Howard. Designed to accompany the Manual . It affords the necessary reading practise in the corresponding style. The selections are taken (by permission) from "McGuffey's Revised Fifth Eclectic Reader," which may be used as a key. 52 pp., paper 25
The Phonographic Copy-Book. Made of double-ruled paper, such as is used by most reporters, but with the lines wider apart for the learner. This paper is especially useful to the beginner, and assists him to acquire a neat and uniform style of writing. Paper, 5 cents; postpaid
The Second Phonographic Reader. By BENN PITMAN and JEROME B. HOWARD. Contains reading exercises engraved in easy reporting style, and is keyed by "McGuffey's Revised Sixth Eclectic Reader." 52 pp., paper
The Reporter's Companion. By BENN PITMAN and JEROME B. HOWARD. A Guide to Verbatim Reporting; for professional reporters and those who desire to become such. In this work, which should be studied only by those who have first mastered the Manual of Phonography, the Principles of Abbreviation used in the Brief Reporting Style of Phonography are clearly explained and amply illustrated. Thousands of reporters have acquired their ability to write verbatim with no other instruction than that afforded by this and the preceding set of books. 187 pp., cloth

The Phonographic Dictionary and Phrase Book. By BENN PITMAN and JEROME B. HOWARD. Contains a vocabulary of 120,000 words, including every useful word in the language and a large number of proper and geographic names, legal, scientific, and technical terms, engraved in phonography with a parallel key in ordinary type. Concerning each word information is given on the following points: 1. Spelling; 2. Accentuation; 3. Pronunciation; 4. Capitalization; 5. Fully vocalized (or Corresponding Style) phonographic outline; 6. Reporting Style outline; 7. Compounding; 8. Principal phrases which it begins. The phonographic outlines are clearly and beautifully engraved, no roundabout, complicated "nomenclature" being employed. [Specimen pages will be sent on request.] 552 pages, octavo, cloth
Business Letters. No. 1. — Miscellaneous Correspondence. Written in the Reporting Style of Phonography, with Key. By Benn PITMAN and JEROME B. HOWARD. The letters have been selected from actual correspondence in various branches of business, and, being free from difficult technicalities, are such as will furnish the best practise for young students of shorthand who are ready to begin fitting themselves for the duties of the shorthand correspondent or business amanuensis. 32 pp., paper
Instructions in Practical Court Reporting. By H. W. THORNE. The standard work on this important subject. Exemplifies, explains and instructs as to all the details of trials, teaching the shorthand writer how to use his skill in making a report. Contains valuable suggestions to lawyers and law students found in no other work. Has received emphatic testimonials from official court reporters, judges, lawyers, law lecturers, teachers of shorthand and the press. 237 pp., cloth
Books Printed in Phonography.
[Nearly Ready.] On Self-Culture, Intellectual, Physicial, and Moral. A vade mecum for young men and students. By JOHN STUART BLACKIE, professor of Greek in the University of Edinburgh. Printed in the Easy Reporting Style of Phonography in accordance with the Manual of Phonography by Benn Pitman and Jerome B. Howard. 67 pp. Paper
Plain Talk. By C. H. Spurgeon. Written in Corresponding Style. 32 pp., paper

Rip Van Winkle and The Creole Village. By Washington Irving. In Easy Reporting Style. 32 pp., paper
The Battle of Waterloo. Compiled from Creasy's "Fifteen Decisive Battles," and other sources. By BENN PITMAN. In Brief Reporting Style, with maps. No key. 31 pp., paper
[See also The Phonographic Library, page 6.]
